Walk this way with Duralite®

Manhattan Showers, one of the UK's leading enclosure manufacturers, is at the forefront of shower enclosure and tray design. Manhattan is committed to delivering aspirational enclosures that are both stylish and practical.

Graham Starkey, Technical Director of Manhattan felt the market offering of shower trays did not quite meet the exacting standards of enclosures available and so the team at Manhattan embarked upon creating an unrivalled range of trays to partner their popular range of shower enclosures; "When building a house you have to start with good solid foundations and the same theory applies when installing a shower enclosure." And now for the science...! Graham explains; "After much deliberation we opted for an Acrylonitrile Butadiene Styrene (ABS) material for Duralite® as it is extremely lightweight the flexibility allows it to be moulded into complex shapes. The ABS material is then coated with pure acrylic to provide a hard-wearing, durable veneer to the finished product. Our Duralite® trays also feature a unique and award-winning concealed waste". The concealed waste is a stylish and practical feature that replaces the standard 'mushroom' waste. It ingeniously houses a removable hair trap to aid cleaning and the discreet cover maintains the smooth lines of the enclosure.
