

Manhattans Wet room

Wetrooms are the ultimate style statement. Combining classic design and precision craftsmanship, Manhattan has created a beautiful series of Wetrooms that portray a delicate yet opulent flavour.

Manhattan understands that homes and bathrooms come in many different shapes and sizes. Its latest product offering is the wet room encompassing a plethora of design solutions. Manhattans wet rooms have been designed for both freestanding and corner applications. The configuration options are infinite. Both are installed using Manhattans own unique and innovative bracing bar. This stylish cube shaped chrome bar can be adjusted to allow for a combination of spatial and design preferences; it is enhanced with pivoting end brackets that can be angled up to 45 degrees from the wall position to the left, right or at a fixed point. The bracing bars also allow for the panel to be angled through 360 degrees. This clever use of design and structure is the optimum in style with maximum functionality. Marketing Manager of Manhattan Showers Ltd "that the distinctive features found on our new range of wet rooms offer a truly different design element and open up endless possibilities when considering installation options."

For extra versatility, the wet room panels come in various size options and can be installed with optional return panels or an end panel. The corner option is secured using a slender wall channel together with an adhesive floor channel which sits on top of floor tiles to hold the glass panel securely in place. Likewise, the freestanding option is fitted with an ingenious aluminium floor channel which is counter sunk into the floor tile providing a secure, sealed location.

Manhattans 8mm wet room panels have a slender wall channel allowing for less than perfect walls, whilst incorporating a stylish and discreet aluminium top cap that provides a perfect finish.

Manhattan's wetrooms follow a long line of shower enclosure products designed and built in the UK and come complete with a Lifetime Guarantee together with British Standard assurances and certification. As with all Manhattan enclosures a great deal consideration has been given to the installer ensuring that Manhattan is still the installers' best friend.
