It's all in the detail!

In a highly competitive market place, Manhattan is constantly challenging the design and functionality of its vast portfolio of enclosures, wet rooms and trays. Graham Hackett, Marketing Manager explains, “Even changing the smallest detail can have a huge impact on the overall look of the enclosure.” With this in mind, the design team at Manhattan has been working on a series of new handles that harmonise with today’s minimalist trend. The existing curved handle on M3’s range of Bi-fold doors has been replaced with a sleek slim-line handle which complements the doors geometric lines giving it a thoroughly modern twist. In addition the M3 Hinged door handle has been replaced with a transparent, tactile style that is in juxtaposition with the clear glass of the hinged door.
